It is the applicant's responsibility to prepare and furnish such translation directly to each elected Office concerned.

For further details on the applicable time limits and requirements of the elected Offices, see Volume II of the PCT Applicant's Guide.

The applicant's attention is drawn to Article 33(5), which provides that the criteria of novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability described in Article 33(2) to (4) merely serve the purposes of international preliminary examination and that "any Contracting State may apply additional or different criteria for the purposes of deciding whether, in that State, the claimed inventions is patentable or not" (see also Article 27(5)). Such additional criteria may relate, for example, to exemptions from patentability, requirements for enabling disclosure, clarity and support for the claims.

3. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application, the international preliminary examination was carried out on the basis of the sequence listing:

- ☐ contained in the international application in written form.
- ☐ filed together with the international application in computer readable form.
- ☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in written form.
- ☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in computer readable form.
- ☐ The statement that the subsequently furnished written sequence listing does not go beyond the disclosure in the international application as filed has been furnished.
- ☐ The statement that the information recorded in computer readable form is identical to the written sequence listing has been furnished.

4. The amendments have resulted in the cancellation of:

- ☐ the description, pages:
- ☐ the claims, Nos.:
- ☐ the drawings, sheets:

5. ☐ This report has been established as if (some of) the amendments had not been made, since they have been considered to go beyond the disclosure as filed (Rule 70.2(c)).

1. D1-D11 (D1: claims; examples; page 4, lines 16-45; page 3, lines 37-55 ; D2: examples 20-25; page 23, lines 22-28; D3: claims 1, 2, 4 and 5; examples; D4: claims; examples; page 2, line 34 - page 3, line 35; D5: claims 1-6 , 10 and 11; examples; page 21, lines 3-30; page 23, lines 1-10; page 18, line 14- page 19, line 10; page 5, line 25- page 8, line 19; D6: examples 2 and 3; D7: claims; example 1; page 16, line 23; page 13, line 18 - page 14, line 22; D8: claims; examples; column 13, lines 27-45; column 4, line 3 - column 5, line 57; D9: claims 1-10, 15-18 and 20; examples 3 and 4; column 5, line 43 - column 6, line 67; D10: claims 1, 8, 9, 12-15 and 18; examples 3-7; page 9, line 3 - page 12, line 26; page 16, lines 29-31; D11: claims 1-3 and 6; examples; ) all disclose cleaning compositions comprising a cationic surfactant having germicidal properties, a nonionic surfactant, a chelating as defined in claim 1 and water.

The subject-matter of claims 1 is therefore not novel over any of the documents D1-D11 (Article 33(2) PCT).

- 2. The compositions of D1-D11 all comprise a ethoxylated alcohol as nonionic surfactant. The subject-matter of claim 2 is thus also not novel in view of D1-D11.
- 3. A combination of ethoxylated alcohol surfactant and an amine oxide surfactant is disclosed in D1-D4. The subject-matter of claim 3 is therefore not novel.

INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION REPORT - SEPARATE SHEET

International application No. PCT/GB 03/03047

4. D1-D11 disclose all the use of a chelating agent as described in claim 4, which therefore lacks novelty.
5. The compositions of D1-D3, D5-D9 discloses the use of the specific chelating agents of claim 5 . Claim 5 is not novel.
6. The compositions of D5-D8 can be used in an aerosol spray bottle, i.e. they comprise a propellant. The subject-matter of claim 6 is not new in view of D5-D8.
7. The subject-matter of claims 7 and 8 coincides with that of claims 3 and 4, and are thus not novel in view of D1-D4.
8. The compositions of D1-D3 discloses the use of the specific chelating agents of claim 9. The subject-matter of claim 9 is thus not novel.
9. The compositions of D1, D3-D11 are all used as hard surface cleaning compositions. Therefore, claim 12 is not novel.
10. The subject-matter of claim 10 differs from that of D1-D4 in that a propellant is present in the compositions.

The remaining objective problem is therefore to provide an alternative way of dispensing the compositions onto a surface.

Dispensing aqueous liquid cleaning/disinfecting compositions by an aerosol type product is known from D5-D8. The skilled person would therefore without exercising inventive skill use the compositions of D1-D4 in the aerosol type products of D5-D8, i.e. also introduce a propellant in the compositions of D1-D4.

The subject-matter of claim 10 is therefore not inventive in view of the combination of D1-D4 with D5-D8 (Article 33(3) PCT).

11. It is not allowable under Rule 6.2(a) PCT to define the subject-matter of a claim only by references to the description as is done in claim 11. However, none of the cited prior art documents discloses a composition which coincides completely with one the examples of the application.
